UAE recognises CRS to issue maritime statutory certificates

The UAE's Maritime Administration at the Ministry of Energy and Infrastructure (MOEI) signed on Monday a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Croatian Register of Shipping (CRS) recognising and permitting the latter to issue maritime statutory certificates and carry out all necessary survey works to ensure the eligibility of ships to sail safely.

Under the agreement, all classification societies under the International Association of Classification Societies (IACS) will be accredited by the UAE.

CRS is one of the oldest classification societies in the maritime sector, dating back to the 19th century when the Austrian Veritas was founded in 1858, which later changed its name to the Adriatic Veritas.

The Yugoslav Register of Shipping was founded in 1949, when Croatia separated from Yugoslavia in 1992, the classification society became the Croatian Register of Shipping.
