UAE resumes trade and travel with Qatar

The United Arab Emirates announced that it would reopen its borders and airspace to Qatar after boycotting the tiny energy-rich country alongside its Gulf allies since 2017

The decision to restart commerce and travel would take effect soon, Foreign Ministry official Khalid Abdullah Belhou was quoted as saying by the UAE's state-run WAM news agency

The move comes after Saudi Arabia declared a breakthrough in settling the years long rift with Qatar during the annual Gulf summit last week, saying the kingdom would restore diplomatic ties and that its allies would follow suit

The UAE indicated on Friday that its restoration of full diplomatic relations with Qatar would take longer. Belhou said the federation of seven sheikhdoms is continuing talks to end all other outstanding issues. Bahrain and Egypt, which had joined the UAE and Saudi Arabia in isolating Doha, have yet to publicly elaborate on their pledges to ease the boycott signed this week in the ancient Saudi desert site of al-Ula

Unlocking UAE-Israel trade potential

Dubai's exports to Israel could reach $4 billion annually as businesses on both sides tap into synergies and build partnerships

The UAE and Israel are sparing no effort in capitalizing on the tremendous economic opportunities created by the Abraham Accords. It is truly remarkable to see how the two countries have made great strides in normalizing relations in the few months since this historic deal was signed

The launch of direct flights, establishment of a joint investment fund and the easing of visa restrictions are all major developments that will fast track economic cooperation. In this regard, Dubai will play a crucial role as a strategic hub and catalyst for driving and expanding UAE-Israel trade

Given the tremendous trade potential and synergies that exist between businesses on both sides, we project that Dubai's exports to Israel could reach $4 billion annually, which could potentially make Israel a top trading partner to the emirate in the not-too-distant future. This is a modest estimate when you look at the strengths and opportunities that each economy offers the other
